

A New General Stores

Location: 4th and Church | Designer: Kati Eitzman

The only shopping options of convenience are the Big-Box stores. As most are placed on the edges of town, this requires the user to drive long distances and plan trips. The convenience of location is gone. Also, once the stores move on, the large empty space is left derelict and useless. The new solution is to bring back the general store. Smaller scale stores in downtown locations that can be easily accessed and easily reused into another program.

REPIENGINEERING

