

Albion Performing Arts Center

boone county, ne

parker edick

Green Space

After exploring and studying the town, it became apparent that the site of the project, was not only in the center of the town, but was also one of the last remaining large green spaces in the town. Therefore one of the main objectives of the design was to retain as much green space as possible. This was accomplished by lifting the green space up and putting the performance area mostly below ground.

Town's Beacon

Another objective of the design was to create a center for the town, and a place of gathering that will create some excitement in the town. The lobby space, which is the one part of the building that is completely above ground, is mostly glass and transparent. This creates a glowing effect in the lobby when there are performances and events going on to help show the activity in the building.

