

Prairie Pods

Location: countryside Southeast of Albion | Designer: Kati Eitzman

Located in the isolated plains are a series of pods. They run on a track system that allows for manual movement only. They are self-sustaining and modular, allowing for them to be joined together for a larger space or isolated for total seclusion. The structure is enclosed totally in glass. To allow a 360 view mimicking the openness of the surrounding plains. If privacy becomes an issue, ultra-thin wooden blinds are available.
