

Re-Awakening the Urban Glue

Location: intersection of 4th and Church | Designer: Kati Eitzman

With so much downtown renovation being proposed, it became obvious something needed to be done to "fill in the gaps." This new scheme will close down the intersection of 4th and Church to cars and become pedestrian-only zones. Each street will step down to a central gathering space featuring small fountains and group lighting. Tree-lined boulevards would remain at building level for easy pedestrian, and if necessary, car access.
