

Urban Fitness Center

Location: NE corner of 5th and Main St | Designer: Brian Akert

This urban fitness center's concept is a place where people can go to see and be seen. It re-uses an abandoned building's structural shell and turns the interior breezeway into an area that is full of different activities. Some of the features include a lap pool, weight room, dance studio, ping pong and pool table area, running track, and bike lane that runs the length of the building.

REPIONEERING

